INVITATION

We are glad to inform that Veterinary Pathology Congress - 2015, XXXII Annual Meeting of Indian Association of Veterinary Pathologists (IAVP) and VI Annual Meeting of Indian College of Veterinary Pathologists (ICVP) and National Symposium on “Challenges and advances in disease diagnosis of livestock, poultry and fish: Redefining the role of Veterinary Pathologists” will be jointly organized by the Indian Association of Veterinary Pathologists and Department of Veterinary Pathology, NTR College of Veterinary Science, Gannavaram, Andhra Pradesh, India from December 3-5, 2015. The Organizing Committee is delighted to extend a warm and cordial invitation to all veterinary pathologists, veterinarians and biomedical scientists and academicians to participate in these events.

The task of disease diagnosis is becoming complex in the present scenario with varied clinicopathological manifestations and changing epidemiological trends. The symposium will focus on the global trends in technological advances with relevance to disease diagnosis. The deliberations are intended to help understand the challenges and redefine the role of veterinary pathologists. Professionals and entrepreneurs engaged in aquaculture will get benefitted by the increased participation of veterinary pathologists in diseases diagnosis in aquaculture. Hence, one session is exclusively proposed on this much desired area.

The Venue
NTR College of Veterinary Science, SVUU, Gannavaram is located opposite to Vijayawada Airport on the Chennai-Kolkata Highway (NH-5) and is about 20 km from Vijayawada Railway Station.

The city Vijayawada spread on the banks of River Krishna, is located in the emerging new capital region of Andhra Pradesh. With a population of above one million, Vijayawada is the second largest city in the state after Visakhapatnam. With vibrant political, agricultural and industrial sectors, the city emerged as a major trading and business centre, contributing a GDP of $3 billion in 2010. The city has been recognised as a “Global City of the Future” by McKinsey Quarterly and is also known as “The Business Capital of Andhra Pradesh”. The famous Kanaka Durga temple, Undavalli caves (7th century A.D), Amaravathi (a place of Buddhist relics), Prakasham barrage and Bhavani island are popular tourist attractions.

The city is well connected by rail network, being the largest railway junction in South India and also by Air (Air India, Air Costa and Spice Jet). The temperature during December ranges from 20-30°C.

Accommodation
There is no free accommodation available in the College, therefore accommodation will be arranged in hotels. The delegates are requested to book the accommodation in advance and the particulars of hotels and the tariffs are given in the enclosure. Hotel rooms will be booked only for those delegates who pay the room tariff in advance along with registration fee. The delegates who intend to do “spot registration” will be accommodated in the remaining available hotels. However, it is to be noted that Vijayawada being in the transition state to become capital city, it is difficult to get last minute accommodation in budget hotels. Hence, it is advised to book hotel rooms in advance. The details of hotels are given in the enclosure.

Payment of Registration and Accommodation Charges
Demand draft (DD) should be drawn in favour of “Organizing Secretary, Veterinary Pathology Congress 2015” payable at Canara Bank, Gannavaram.
